

Contents

---

|                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Introduction          | vii |
| Written by Thomas A. Stewart |     |

Part I The Manager's Responsibilities

|  |    |
|--|----|
| 1 Managing Oneself                      | 3  |
| 2 The Theory of the Business            | 21 |
| 3 The Effective Decision                | 35 |
| 4 They're Not Employees, They're People | 49 |
| 5 How to Make People Decisions          | 61 |
| 6 The Discipline of Innovation          | 69 |
| 7 Managing for Business Effectiveness   | 81 |

Part II The Executive's World

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 8 The Information Executives Truly Need | 99  |
| 9 What Makes an Effective Executive     | 115 |
| 10 The Coming of the New Organization   | 127 |
| 11 The New Society of Organizations     | 139 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 12 The New Productivity Challenge          | 155 |
| 13 What Business Can Learn from Nonprofits | 169 |
| 14 Management and the World's Work         | 181 |
| 15 The Post-Capitalist Executive:          |     |
| An Interview with Peter F. Drucker         | 197 |
| Written by T George Harris                        |     |
| Index                                      | 211 |